

My name is Nickolas Diaz, I prefer to be called Nick or by Nickolas.

My major is computer science, and I plan on transferring from Cypress College in two years and into Cal State Fullerton. Specifically I want to be a penetration tester in cyber security. I mainly chose that field because there is a lot to learn for the job. A penetration tester's world is always changing and growing so we have to adapt to the environment. Ethical hacking is seriously a very cool profession. The job is also highly in demand and continues to grow every year, which in turn makes ethical hackers good money. I practiced every day on websites like tryhackme.com and hackthebox.com for about six months. I have also learned a few coding languages python and javascript on sololearn.com and web3schools.com. I am also starting to code my own website. I still have a long ways to go as I am still not good at it.

I don't really enjoy reading so I don't have an answer to that.

My favorite tv shows are Futurama, Rick and Morty and Death Note. These shows are one of a kind and are unique to any show I have ever watched.

I don't really use social media that much but I sometimes watch youtube or tic-tok

I used to play soccer as a defender and run 100 and 200 meters sprints in my high school. Around 11:30 seconds for my 100 meter race and 24 seconds for my 200 meter race so I am very quick. I have a natural ability for bowling whenever I play it. I always have tremendous luck whether it is a video game or in real life. I still sometimes play indoor soccer every two times per week. I also plan to move to Florida after I graduate from college with my family. My family is 100 percent Cuban and both of my parents escaped from Cuba. Even though I am Cuban I am incapable of speaking or even understanding Spanish. I have taken three years of Spanish in my high school with the study of double the amount of a normal class. Yet I still failed every single test I have ever taken in the class for three years straight. By some miracle I got a c in the class only because the teacher gives 100s on homework and projects. By the end of the three years, in six months I had forgotten everything in the class. I cannot remember a single thing I had learned in all three years of spanish.
